

Lions Club Jamboree Set For Wednesday

Didsbury Lions Club have just about finalized plans for its annual one-day Jamboree, which kicks off with a big street parade at noon next Wednesday. Pipes from the Calgary Highlanders will be in the lead and prizes in different classes include: best decorated float, best decorated car, best decorated bicycle, best dressed rider and horse, best clown, male or female, best turned out old-timer, depicting the earlier days, best pet, accompanied by owner.

Little League baseball will start at 1:30 p.m., with teams from the district league taking part. There will be a senior baseball game between Rosebud All-Stars and the Bowden Institute team, starting at 6:30 in the evening.

Two of the big features of the day will be held in the arena. Shetland pony chuck-wagon races will definitely be worth the price of admission and there will also be horse stake races, the same event that caused so much interest last year.

There will be the usual children's races, and ponies for the younger ones to ride.

Clint Reiber will be running the vegetable and flower show again, this time with better prizes for the winners.

For the automotive-minded there will be a display of the newest cars in the field and farmers will be able to check over the latest in the machinery line. If they get tired of looking at machines they can always enter the horseshoe tournament.

The big day will close off with a Bingo game in the arena in the evening.

Make it a date for Didsbury, on Wednesday, August 14th.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT SHOWER

A shower was held for Miss Wava Deakick, bride-elect of this month, in the Evangelical church parlor recently, when 50 friends were in attendance. After a few games and contests, the bride was presented with a number of beautiful and useful gifts. The guest of honor thanked the donors in a few well chosen words. A delicious lunch was then served to the guests.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a barn on the same farm several years ago.

Mrs. Les Lytle and new son are home from the hospital and both are reported as doing very well.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Art Eggin on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. John Haug spent several days at the home of his son, Trygve, and family, after being a patient in Didsbury hospital.

Hose laying competitions held at Calgary July 27 attracted 20 teams of professional and volunteer firemen from points throughout Alberta. Shown above checking a competing team's progress on the electric time clock is the four-man team from the Didsbury Fire Department: Jack McFarquhar, Ray Johnson, Bill Moon and Dave Patton. In afternoon eliminations each team was allowed two runs with the hose truck, connecting a hydrant along the route and coupling a nozzle at the end of the run to hit a two-foot target. Cold Lake R.C.A.P. team topped eight others in the single-run evening finals with a run of 25 seconds. The meet was sponsored by the Calgary Fire Department with co-operation of the Alberta Fire Commissioner's Office. Similar competitions have been held at five other points.

Council Decide On Street Paving

(From Our Own Correspondent)

At a regular meeting of Didsbury Town Council it was decided to go ahead with the plan to pave some of the main streets in town. Reports received indicate that the road from Jenkins' Groceries to Edford Motors will receive the hard top, as well as the road west from the Royal Bank to the Telephone Office corner. Work is scheduled to start immediately.

Other tentative plans are in the making for oiling of some streets not included in the above-mentioned area.

Just For The Record . . .

Someone must have been looking over our left shoulder when we wrote last week about the need for moisture in these parts. However, or should we say whoever it was, didn't follow instructions. The moisture fell in no small measure but in some areas was accompanied by high winds and hail, which caused heavy damage in some sections. We just ordered the rain --- the white stuff wasn't on our menu.

And A Friendly Nod . . .

To the fella' we saw peekin' around a corner at the railroad station here on Monday of this week. It was Clint Reiber, no less, who was just reminiscing as a northbound train pulled in. Because why? Twice just 50 years ago on August 5th that Clint climbed off a rattler and first set eyes on the town that has been his home ever since. During that time he has done more than his share to make this spot a better place to live in. There have been changes made, and our 50-year man has had his share in them. Congrats!

Just For The Record . . .

The Lions Club Jamboree is set for next Wednesday and all previously advertised features will be a part of the program (some of them are really in the upper entertainment bracket). Just so we can all join in the fun, we'd appreciate having copy for next week's issue of this paper just a day or so earlier. By the way, it's a civic holiday and most offices and business places will be closed for the day.

And A Friendly Nod . . .

To the lad who came out with the definition of a bachelor as a man "who never made the same mistake once!"

FARM WOMEN HEAR FROM NETHERLANDS

During the recently completed Farm Women's Week held at Oids those present heard a very interesting talk on the Netherlands by Mrs. W. J. Houten, a resident of that country. She is an honorary member of the Netherlands War Graves Committee and spoke of her work in that direction.

She also gave an insight into her country. She told of its early history and of the huge reclamation project now underway, which is scheduled for completion by 1980. She also outlined difficulties encountered in this scheme. One difficulty is how to preserve the oyster beds, from which the Netherlands derives a large part of its revenue.

Mrs. Van Houten told the listeners that all single people over 65 years receive a pension of $216 per year, while married people receive $351 per year. She also spoke of advances made in social service work in that country. The Netherlands has the lowest infant mortality rate in the world and the largest income per square mile.

She completed her talk with a few points on the school system. Children of nine years old, she said, start to learn languages. They must be able to speak English, French and German.

THIS LADY'S GARBAGE COULD BE VALUABLE

Putting out her garbage Saturday may have cost an Edmonton woman $20.00.

Police are investigating the loss of some negotiable bonds the woman believes she may have tossed into her trash can.

Shortly after throwing out the garbage she missed the bonds but a thorough search of the area, and the garbage can, failed to turn up the papers.

HANNAH — OKE

The Didsbury United Missionary Church was the scene of a very lovely wedding with candle-light setting and baskets of gladioli, on July 26 at 7 p.m. Miss Alta Mae Oke, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Oke of Didsbury, was united in marriage to Mr. Vern Alexander Hannah, only son of Mrs. Opa Hannah of Glendale, California. Dr. Arnold E. Airhart officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by Rev. E. T. Lancaster of California.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of beautifully designed tulle and chiffon over taffeta, with chapel length skirt, designed with re-embroidered alençon lace studded with sequins and pearls. The portrait neckline and scalloped hip yoke on a basque bodice was accented by a finger-tip veil of gem-studded illusion tulle flowing from a jewelled cap. The bride carried a white Bible, from which a cascade of sweetheart roses and knotted rosettes fell gracefully to the hemline.

Miss Phyllis Traub, maid of honor, with three accompanying bridesmaids, Norma Weiss, Carole Morgan and Gayle Hannah, wore identical gowns of dusky rose nylon sheer over taffeta. Each carried simulated baskets of red roses. Their head-dresses of gem-studded chiffon were also identical.

Mr. Bob Pain was best man and Messrs. George Dunbar, Gerald Phillips and Edward Oke served as ushers and attendants.

The candles were lit by Lorraine Lancaster and Karen Greer, cousins of the bride, and little Joy Phillips and David Oke were flower girl and ring bearer, and preceded the bride in the processional. Before the ceremony Mr. Earl Reimer played a violin solo, "The Lord's Prayer" and during the ceremony Mr. Edward Oke, brother of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the improvised altar. Miss Shirley Rudyk played the organ music throughout the ceremony. During the signing of the register Guo Dunbar sang "Be Thou Our Guide."

The reception line was held at the back of the church after the ceremony. The bride's mother, in a gown in lace over taffeta, in turquoise shade, with accessories to match. She wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a taffeta gown with white and black pattern with a corsage of American Beauty roses, with black and white accessories.

The wedding dinner was held in the high school auditorium where the many guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. Rev. Lancaster was master of ceremonies and Mr. Harvey Burgess proposed the toast to the bride.

Guests were present from Fresno, Calif., Minneapolis, Minn., and Norgate, Man. Following the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hannah will make their home in Pasadena, Calif., where the groom will continue his work in university preparatory for the ministry.

Freezing is the faster, fresher way. And what a boon that deep freeze is to the homemaker! Frozen foods have higher food value, better color and flavor and take less time and labor to prepare.

For the best results your food should be wrapped or packaged in such a way that the moisture is kept in and the air kept out. Good quality wrapping material is the answer. The best materials are: aluminum foil (frezer weight), laminated papers, moisture proof cellophane, saran, poly-ethylene and cry-o-wrap. These can be purchased at your food store or locker plant. For fruits and vegetables rectangular cartons take up less freezer space (up to one-third or more space may be saved).
Bag-in box cartons and waxed containers are popular.

Cutting the vegetables in the early morning before it becomes too hot and so as soon after picking as possible. Most vegetables freeze well except tomatoes, lettuce, celery, cucumber and water cress. Some varieties are better than others, though. Send me for our list of recommended vegetable varieties for freezing.

Blanching or scalding of vegetables helps maintain quality, preserve the vitamins, brighten and aid in color retention and prevent toughing. Scald only small amounts at a time (not more than one to one and a half pounds with the average kitchen equipment). Cool rapidly with ice water or running water.

The right stage of maturity is important for best results. Vegetables, young, tender and fresh are best; woody, starchy or tough vegetables result in a poorly frozen product.

For corn-on-the-cob select only small or medium ears weighing less than seven ounces. It is difficult to scald the cob of a larger ear of corn properly without over-scalding the kernels. Corn should be partially thawed before cooking is started.

Avoid Alaska and other starchy varieties of peas.

Fruit Freezing - - -

All fruits except bananas and pears freeze well.

The fruit may be done by three methods: sugar pack (no water added), syrup pack or unsweetened pack (dry pack most fruits except cherries, peaches, plums and can-taloop can be dry packed).

Ascorbic acid (Vitamin C) helps keep fruit like apricots, sweet cherries, figs and peaches from darkening and losing flavor. You can buy ascorbic acid at the drug store.

Blanching raw rhubarb for one minute helps it to retain its color and flavor.

Try freezing cantaloop cut into cubes or balls with whole seedless grapes covered with a thin syrup (two cups sugar to one quart water). It's a real treat for your family.

Write to this office for the bulletins "Preserve by Freezing" and
"Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables".

LIGHT YOUR WAY
WITH BIBLE STUDY

John, the disciple of love says:
"Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good." This brings to mind a story that illustrates the dangers of following evil.

Sophronius, a wise teacher, would not let his grown sons and daughters associate with those who character was not pure and upright.
"Dear father," said the gentle Eulalia to him one day when he forbade her and her brothers to visit ill-behaved Louisa. "You must think us very childish if you imagine that we should be in any danger." The father took a dead coal from the hearth and handed it to his daughter. "It will not burn you child, take it." Eulalia did so and her hand was soiled; and as it chanced, her white dress also was blackened. "We can not be too careful in handling coals," said Eulalia in vexation. "Yes, truly," said her father. "You see my children, that coal even if they do not burn, blacken; so it is with the company of the wicked."

We have a saying: "A man is known by the company he keeps." We also must be careful, lest in associating with evil, we ourselves of old says: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the council of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

BOARD
NOTES
By
W. E. SNYDER
Agricultural Service Board

GOATSEARD: Every year we notice this weed scattered along roadides and in fields of this district. It is a comparatively new weed and at present not particularly troublesome. The plant can be identified by the following characteristics:

Growing to a height of 2 to 3 feet, coarse and branchy medium to dark green in color. The flower is yellow and resembles somewhat an over-size dandelion.
In fact, several times larger than a dandelion. The stalk, branches and roots of yellow goatseard is completely filled with a white, milky juice.

As the plants reach maturity the yellow flower turns white and fluffy resembling a goatseard, hence the name. When fully ripe this ball of fluff may be as large as a baseball and the seeds which travel on the breeze in exactly the same fashion as a thistle seed, will travel for miles. It is much easier to deal with this weed early before it becomes well established.
Small patches and isolated plants are much less troublesome to destroy than would be a widespread infestation.

The old axiom holds good, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Look your fields over carefully now for weeds before they are fully ripened and prevent further spread of any unwelcome weeds.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
The practical power of goodness and spirituality will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (2:12): "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (277:7-9): "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal." Scriptural selections will include the following from II Corinthians (3:4,5): "And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward: Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves;
but our sufficiency is of God."

To a woman a perfect husband is one who thinks he has a perfect wife.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Campus guests during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cressman and Miss Neida Lager, of Kitchener, Ont. Mr. Cressman is the treasurer of the United Missionary Board and was touring certain parts of the west after the wedding of his only son in Swift Current, Sask. Miss Eby accompanied them as they visited the homes of Rev. and Mrs. H. Traub for supper Monday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer Tuesday noon for dinner. They left for further points on Tuesday afternoon.

President and Mrs. Taylor were on campus for a few hours Tuesday Wednesday morning before leaving for Gull Lake camp. They will return this week and Mr. Taylor expects to be on campus for the remainder of the summer. They were dinner guests at the Hunsperger home on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Arthur Eby is one of the teachers at the Gull Lake Bible Camp during the week. Little Marilyn is staying with her uncle and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer, while her mother is away.

David Archer and Earl Reimer were reviewing the campus on Sunday evening and called at Miss Eby's home for a chat in the evening. Earl will be leaving for Cascade College to take his second year of studies there very soon, and David is planning to register in Bethel College in Indiana within the next few weeks.

Arthur Eby went to Gull Lake for the Sunday services. He is very busy these days picking peas, beans, etc., and putting them in the deep freeze for winter use. There is a great deal of work around the campus in the fall and he is doing a splendid job in getting things ready for the fall opening.

The students of the college are living up to all expectations as they send in their pledges for the Library Project of the Student Body Association. Already over $600 has been given and the librarian is very busy cataloguing new books for the coming year. This is a wonderful project and will mean much to the students who shall come in the future.

We trust that many of our farmer friends will keep the college in mind as they look over their gardens, chickens, turkeys, hogs and cattle. We are most appreciative of all that the friends do for us each year and we are always in pendant upon them for such help.

HOEVE — DEADRICK
A wedding of wide interest to many in the Didsbury and Lacombe areas was solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 3 in the Evangelical United Brethren Church when Wava Violet Deadrick, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deadrick of Didsbury, exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Bert Hoeve, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoeve of Lacombe. Rev. A. E. Stuckel officiated at the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, gowned in embroidered nylon tulle over satin with bouffant skirt and sweetheart neckline, matching bolero with lily-point sleeves. She carried a white Bible with red roses and rosebud streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Walter McInnes, sister of the bride; Miss Mary Gougs of Red Deer acted as bridesmaid, and Linda Deadrick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. Deadrick of Lacombe, niece of the bride, was flower girl. The matron of honor and bridesmaid wore floor-length identical gowns of medium and light blue chrysanthemum, fashioned with boat neck and loose waist with bouffant skirt. The flower girl wore a floor-length gown of yellow, similarly fashioned, and carried a basket of yellow and blue baby mums. The senior attendants carried identical colonial bouquets of yellow glads.

The groom's attendants were Mr. George Wiersma, a brother-in-law, and Mr. Charles Hoeve, a brother. Mr. Walter McInnes, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Frank Tohsma, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as ushers. The organist was Miss Helen Swalm of Didsbury and soloist was Mr. David Hoeve of Lacombe, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a light blue printed taffeta with navy duster and white accessories and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother chose a grey dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church parlor for 120 guests, when Mr. Doris Wilson, uncle of the bride, proposed the bridal toast.

Following a honeymoon at Banff and points in the U.S., Mr. and Mrs. Hoeve will take up residence in Red Deer.
